THE GERMAN OCCUPATION OF NORTHERN FRANCE WORLD WAR I

by R. T. Harrison

Map showing limit of German occupation

Most of occupied northern France remained within the Etappen Zone but the regions of Givet, Fumay and Maubeuge were considered sufficiently safe to be attached instead to the General Government Postal Administration of Belgium

Details of Post Offices

By a compilation of various sources and with the help of the late Ted Coles of the France and Colonies Philatelic Society, the following towns are listed as having Post Office status for civilian use during the war:
